AUGUST BELMONT'S COLT RUNS FIRST AND HIS FILLY LAST AT JAMAICA

OSPREY LIKES MUD; LUSTROUS DOESN'T

Both by Fair Play and on Fast Track Both Could Beat Opponents Easily.

field in the Gowanus-

Elected Scores.

By HENRY V. KING.

August Belmont started two juveniles in the third race at Jamaica yesterday afternoon. Both are by Fair Play. Both are high class youngsters. On a dry track both could beat the field opposing them in a gallop. But only one of them is a mud runner. He is Osprey, a fine looking coit out of Olympia. He revelled in the sloppy going and led home his field cased up by four lengths. The other, a hand-come along with him."

All of which is interesting. There is no doubt that the Babe did not hit. He gave many interesting exhibitions of club swinging and wafted welcome breezes to the press box on a couple of those hot afternoons. But as a mauler he was a tremendous disappointment. It looks as if the big fellow has taken the lesson to heart and will take steps to remedy his shortcomings.

Ruth is going out with Bob Meusel on a short barnstorming tour, and then will settle down on his farm at Sudbury, Mass., to a winter of the simple life—hard work around the place, with plenty of wood chopping. There will be no vaudeville tour and a life of ease for the Babe this winter. He promises to report at the spring training camp as hard as nalls with his eye clear. by four lengths. The other, a handsome filly named Lustrous, out of content of the world series. The Athletics did not be actly cover themselves with glory and sloppy going, but their trainer wasn't sure they would race well in it. Almost any horse will breeze a quarter of a mile or so handily on a heavy track, but those not bred for it will flounder about after going about three-eighths of a mile in a race.

As soon as the barrier went up McAtee shot Osprey to the front and the race was over before the first sixteenth of a mile had been covered. Osprey is suffering from soreness around the knees, but the soft sloppy track helped them and he bounded forward like a real good coit. He entered the homestretch half a dozen lengths in front and fighting to go faster. Although eased up a furlong from home he went past the judges four lengths ahead of Harry Payne Whitney's Spot Cash. John Shaughnessy's O'Corra was third.

Lustrous Beaten Off.

A sixteenth of a mile in the rear finished Lustrous. She was floundering about like a drunken man. She wouldn't have won if her opponents had been the cheapest kind of platers in training.

Nose Dive by Aeronaut, out of Agnic, which used to race for George D. Widengr, has developed into a useful horse. He won two cheap races this fall and yesterday he went forth and land yesterday he went forth and the training and yesterday he went forth and the training and yesterday he went forth and the training and yesterday he went forth and the cheapest kind of platers in training. Nicr, which used to race for George D. Widener, has developed into a useful horse. He won two cheap races this fall and yesterday he went forth and beat Henry Alterman's Tufter and R. T. Wilson's Sedgefield in the Gowanus Selling Stakes, the feature of the program. And he accomplished his job in a sensational way. He took the lead as soon as the barrier went up and galloped along in front every step of the way to win easily by three lengths. Tufter was second and Sedgefield third. Fator was severely criticized for the way he along in front every step of the way to win easily by three lengths. Tufter was second and Scdgefield third. Fator was severely criticized for the way he rode Tufter. He held his mount far off the pace until well straightened out in the homestretch. There he gave his mount free rein and Tufter bounded after the leader and gained ground with every stride, but his challenge came too late. The jockey probably believed Nose Dive would come back to him and that the only horse he had to beat was Sedgefield, but Nose Dive didn't come back, and while his mount was beating Sedgefield, Nose Dive was as good as home.

Elected Sprints to Victory.

of the good form she displayed last season. She took command as soon as the barrier went up and was never headed. At the end she was tiring and Merimees had to hustle her along to win by half a length. Leghorn finished second and Scotland Yet was third. Scotland Yet ran a good race. She stumbled at the start and lost half a dozen lengths. Rounding the turn into the stretch she displayed a fine turn of speed and stepped from the rear into second place. But making up the ground she lost at the start sapped some of her strength and in the final run she faltered.

Roy Waldron sent two horses to the first turners are she was the final run she faltered.

The reserve the design to Japan.

It looks as if only Long George Kelly among the Giants will make the trip to Japan. Neh already has declined, and Irish Meusel, we hear, will pass it up to-day. Bush, Hofmann and Hoyt are the three Yankees who will go with Herb Hunter's tourists. McGraw has frowned on post season play of any sort. Jack Scott had an engagement in the West, but suddenly canceled it. Ruth and Bob Meusel are going on a barnstorming to the strength and in the final run she faltered.

Roy Waldron sent two horses to the lost it is to be to be a sent to be sent to be a sent to be Roy Waldron sent two horses to the Roy Waldron sent two horses to the post in the final race. They were Poe, belonging to Xalapa Farm, and Prelude, owned by the Lexington Stable. Because he was the trainer of both they were coupled in the betting and made odds on favorites. Poe won and Prelude was second. But it is a question if Poe was the better as the race was run. In the run through the homestretch Taplin, who had the less up on Prelude stood. the run through the homestretch Taplin, who had the leg up on Prelude, stood straight up in the saddle and pulled his mount back. As they were running in lifferent interests it is a question if the lockey had a right to do such a thing. His ride did no one any harm because his mount was coupled with the winner, but nevertheless it was a violation of the rules, and a similar ride under different conditions might prove harmful to some racegoers and get him into serious trouble with the Jockey Club.

Maize ran away from a small field of platers in the second race and Ambier won the opener from a quintet of juveniles.

Ball Bill.

Pity the poor umpires. They got only about $1,800 apiece for their work in the five games—about $260 a day.

Dozens of charities have applied for the $121,000 taken in at the tie game. About $60,000 will go to disabled soldiers and the rest to hospitals and orphanages.

Psycho-Analysts Blame Yankees' Slump on Ruth IN CHESS TOURNEY

If Babe Had Hit, His Team Mates Would Have Emulated Him, They Say.

NOSE DIVE WINS STAKE

Said a psychoanalyst yesterday. "The main reason for the poor attack of the Yankees against the Giants lay in the failure of Babe Ruth. When the others saw Ruth look so helpless at bat their confidence was destroyed and they fell before pitching which was expected to prove easy for them. Had the Babe hit the others would have come along with Luck Stone, coulda't untrack herself in the mud and was beaten off. The stable declared to win with Lustrous.

Because of their speed and class the pair were made prohibitive favorites at 2 to 7, but this price would have been extremely generous if they were mud larks. No one knew whether they were larks were in a Slump.

At first blush Ban Johnson appears to be right when he says that the American League was humiliated greatly by the Yankee debacle, but Ban lays it on a bit thick when he declares that the losers played the worst baseball ever shown by an entry from his league in extremely generous if they were mud larks. winner of the New York State championship. Inasmuch as the boy's adjourned game with Edward Lasker of Chicago is practically lost for him, he is now two points down, with very little chance of getting any part of the first prize, which many of his ardent admirers had hoped he would achieve. His other two adjourned games are with Jaffe and Janowski, which ought to yield him one and a half points, and possibly two.

In the game with Bernstein Rzeschewski had the black side of a queen's pawn opening. All went well with the boy excepting for a backward king's pawn, which he neglected to advance when he had a good opportunity. On the twenty-sixth move Bernstein caught the little fellow napping and won a pawn by pretty play. Thereafter Rzeschewski made a stout resistance, but found his position in the ending untereable Bernstein can found his position in the ending un-tenable. Bernstein scored after forty-

Smart London is wearing the Derby Hat

ON Piccadilly and Sackville Row the derby is this autumn in high favor. But it is no more appreciated by smartly dressed men abroad than by those New Yorkers who show decided preference to the derby in their dress, whenever fashion may decree it.

The Knox derby, fashioned after the smart London models, is comfortable and correct.

The Knox Derby Hats range upward in price from $7.00
